NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO MOTHERS.

In a country where the rearing of infants is attended with somewhat exceptional difficulties and risk owing partly to climatic reasons, and partly to the difficulty of getting medical assistance in the 'camp,' an apology is hardly needed for publishing a small hand-book on the subject for the use of mothers. In Dr. Pennel's book on Infant Feeding an attempt has been made to explain in simple terms the reasons on which the various rules and recommendations are based, in order that a mother in modifying her child's diet from time to time as required, may be guided by common sense and not by the hundred and one conflicting counsels, with which she will be assailed. On sale at all bookstalls and libraries.

From a Gentleman in JAPAN
Tottori, Japan, Sept. 11, 1895.
Mason & Hamlin Co.,
146—Boylston St., Boston
Gentlemen:—The piano has had as eventful a career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

Telegrams

(Per Havas Agency.)

United Kingdom

London, 25th—The Daily Telegraph has a very pessimistic article on the Italo-Abyssinian war in this morning's issue. This paper states that if the war continues it will be Italy's financial ruin.

Telegrams from Calcutta report that the drought continues in most parts of British India, and it is already foreseen that the wheat and other grain crops will be be much inferior to those of last year.

The Bow Street Magistrate has liberated Dr. Jameson on a bail of £2,000.

France

Paris, 25th—President Faure will leave for Nice on the 5th of March. He will visit the Czarevitch of Russia at Les Tourbies and the Emperor of Austria at Cape Martin.

General Zédé, commander of the 27th Division, will direct the manœuvres in the Alps in July next. President Faure will attend them.

A telegram from Bangkok reports typhus fever raging there and in the interior of the kingdom, and that the people are greatly alarmed.

Great preparations are being made in Nice to accord a worthy reception to the President of the Republic who is expected to arrive there early in March.

M. Bourgeois, the Prime Minister, M. Lockroy, the Minister of Marine, and M. Mesureur, the Minister of Commerce, will accompany M. Faure on his southern tour which should also include Toulon, where the President will review the Mediterranean squadron.

The Grand Duke George, heir to the Russian throne, received a visit to-day, at his chalet La Turtie, in Nice, from the Austrian Emperor, who remained chatting with his host for half an hour. Shortly afterwards the Grand Duke returned the visit of the Emperor Francis Joseph.

Cordial telegrams have been exchanged between both Royal visitors to France, and M. Faure.

The Chamber of Deputies elected to-day the Committee to be entrusted with the study of the new Budget.

Almost all the members are said to be opposed to M. Doumer's proposal to impose an income-tax.

Spain

Madrid, 25th—The Cuban revolution has up to the present cost Spain close on four hundred million francs.

The Government has decided to send 20,000 troops to Cuba. They leave at the beginning of next month.

Turkey.

Constantinople, 25th.—Fresh disorders in Aleppo are reported, several people being killed and wounded, but the Governor has already informed the Central Government that his troops have restored order.

Austria

Vienna, 25th—There were stormy scenes in the Diet at Salzburg yesterday, provoked by the anti-Semitic Party, and several of them were expelled from the Chamber for their violent conduct.

Belgium

Brussels, 25th—M. Burlet, at once Prime Minister and Secretary for Foreign Affairs, has definitely resigned both posts, presumably on account of ill-health.

Italy

Rome, 25th.—La Capitale in to-day's issue denies that there is any truth in the report to the effect that General Baratieri was to be replaced by General Pelloux as commander-in-chief in Abyssinia.

The lastest news from the Tzala Colony is that the Abyssinians have made no fresh attack on the rearguard of the Italian possessions near Adigrat.

Another despatch states that the Negus has sent a column 10,000 strong to invade the Haussa region. The Governor of Assab has asked for reinforcements from Massauah. From Kassala the Dervishes are reported to be quiet.

Brazil

Rio Janeiro, 25th—The Jornal do Commercio invites Government to solve the Trinidad Question by submitting it to arbitration.

Out of 152 of the Lombardia's crew attacked by yellow fever 51 have died.

The average number of yellow fever cases per day is 40.

Exchange on London is quoted at 9d.

Chile

Valparaiso, 25th—Exchange is quoted at 17⅝.

Several Santiago papers ask the Chilian Foreign Office to pay greater attention to the pending questions with Argentina, and find out whether Chile is being threatened by her neighbour or not. A well known Chilian writer until recently resident in Buenos Aires is greatly in favour of both countries adopting the protocol signed in 1881.

He severely censures the Chilian Minister who signed the treaty with Bolivia.

The troops sent to Cerro Pasco are committing all kinds of atrocities by shooting defenceless citizens and breaking into their houses.

The Diario announces that an Argentine officer is living in the Oddo Hotel at Santiago. He has been present at all the manœuvres of Chilian troops in Catemito and also managed to gain access to the classes attended by the officers of different artillery regiments.

General Novoa has been appointed Inspector General of the National Guard.

Argentine Republic

Rosario, 25th—One thousand three hundred dollars have been collected towards the Del Valle subscription.

Dr. Jose Galvez's friend's are working to get him elected Governor of the Province.

Heavy rain has fallen in all the rural districts.

Wheat is quoted at 6.70 to 6.80.

Linseed 9.40 to 9.50.

(Special Service of the Diario.)

United Kingdom

London, 25th—Sir John Pender, director of submarine cables, is much better, but he has not yet recovered his speaking faculties.

A veritable boom in Argentine Bonds is taking place. The Funding Loan is quoted at 82½, whilst sales at 83¼ were reported.

National Cedulas C are quoted at 27¼ to 29.

Provincial Cedulas serie P from 5⅝ to 7.

National Cedulas F from 26⅝ to 28¼.

United States.

New York, 25th—The British steamer Bermuda was captured last night while loading arms and ammunition for the rebels. The captain, officers and crew were arrested. The Bermuda had been chartered by the Cuban rebels, and had on board Calixto Garcia the well known revolutionary General, besides several other officers 160 men, 5 guns, a couple of thousand rifles and two million rounds of ball cartridge. This is almost an irreparable loss to the rebels. The Bermuda was to have landed her precious cargo at Santa Marta.

Wahington, 25th—The Senate again discussed the advisability of recognizing the Cubans as belligerents. Senator Morgan continued his speech in favour of the motion. He painted the barbarous crimes committed by the Spanish troops in most vivid colours, and wound up by declaring that the United States could not stand calmly by and watch the struggles for liberty made by a sister Republic. The recognition of Cuba's independence is warmly desired by every North American. Let the Senate do its duty and comply with the wish of the people. Senator Morgan was enthusiastically applauded when he finished his speech.

It is doubted whether the President will put his veto to Congress recognizing the belligerency of Cuba, as he does not wish to go against the people.

Italy

Rome, 25th—General Pelloux's appointment to succeed General Baratieri in command of the Abyssinian expedition, has been well received by the whole country. It is expected that he will put a speedy end to the campaign.

Spain

Madrid, 25th—The Heraldo emphatically denies the death of General Maceo. It is asserted that the efforts made by 'Inglesito' to become a United States citizen and thus avoid being shot by the Spanish authorities, will not meet with any success.

THE BATEMAN LEGACY.

This term, which for the last twenty years has been familiarly used as a sort of nickname for our City Improvement Works, and which originated in an opprobium which it has outlived, may now be cut upon the foundation stone of Buenos Aires as a lasting compliment to the genius and talent of the English engineer who has endowed the city with a legacy the greatest of all blessings to its population.

That there is in the affairs of men a certain unseen agency always at work we apprehend none will deny; but in no phase of human affairs is the force of circumstances more clearly established than in the Sanitary Works of this City, which at a public meeting of the world's greatest scientists held in London last month, were pronounced in design and execution the grandest and the finest in existence; and it is with a sort of melancholy contrition that we lift the coffin lid of Mr. Bateman who designed these noble works to place over his remains this little chapter as a just and proper penance for any editorial errors we committed during the many changing years since the commencement of those splendid works in 1873.

The new generation of Englishmen in Buenos Aires and in the River Plate may possibly have heard of the awful ravages of yellow fever in this city in 1871, but it is not given to them either by book, or pen, even imagination, to measure the real magnitude of that appalling visitation; and such are the inscrutable ways of Divine Providence that the outcome of that unutterable woe was the Bateman Legacy, or in other words the City Improvement Works which are now the subject of such merited praise by the first engineering institution in the world. We are free to admit that had there been no fever epidemic to carry off 26,000 of the population in a couple of months, to shut up our business houses, stop our railways and steamers, desolate our streets, brand the hall doors of every second house in town with the yellow cross, open ditches for the indiscriminate burial of the rich and the low, the young and the old, and put out the lights for a whole month in the city; had we not all these sorrows we should probably never have had these magnificent sanitary works, and be still pulling along with a farthing candle on the top of the twopenny-halfpenny tank in the Plaza Lorea, lighting us all on to glory.

The meeting in London to which we allude was held last month at the Institution of Civil Engineers, and was largely attended by professsional engineers from all parts of Europe and America, as it was announced that a paper would be read on the Sanitary Works of Buenos Aires by the son of Lord Ross, an Irish nobleman and one of the greatest Astronomers of the day. The Hon. R. C. Parsons, who read the paper in question, was thorough master of his subject, having served a long and severe apprenticeship in Buenos Aires, walked through every sewer under the town and superintended their construction. Mr. Parsons said, that at the close of the yellow fever epidemic there was a totally inadequate supply of water and the sewage was for the most part discharged into cesspools which were rapidly impregnating the subsoil with poisonous matter. No efficient drainage existed for dealing with the heavy rain storms, nearly six inches of rain having been known to fall during four consecutive hours, causing torrents several feet deep in some of the principal streets of Buenos Aires. Since the commencement of the works in 1873 very serious delay had been caused by the financial and political crisis through which the Argentine Republic had passed. It was, therefore, only during the last ten years that the new water supply had been available, and within the last four that connection had been made with the sewers. It was remarkable that since 1891 the death rate from Zymotic diseases had dropped from 7.28 to 1.16 per 1,000. The water of the River Plate which supplied the new reservoirs was remarkably free from solid impurities, containing only 10¼ per cent. as compared with 31 per cent. in the Thames water. The distributing mains were arranged so that any pipe could be cut off without depriving the district of water, an alternative route for the supply being in all cases available. Provision had been made for a consumption of 20,000,000 gallons per day. The service reservoir was placed at the highest available point, and being surrounded by the residences of wealthy inhabitants had been constructed of ornamental brick and Terracotta in the French renaissance style, the water being stored in three tiers of tanks capable of holding one day's supply. All necessary provision had been made in the design for expansion, due to a range of temperature of 70 degrees Fah. to which the tanks were exposed. One of the most interesting features of the drainage scheme was the arrangement of regulating chambers by which the volume of sewage and storm water combined which flowed down the sewers was kept within the capacity of the sewage pumps, the surplus being passed off into a storm water conduit and discharged direct into the river. There was also a very ingenious arrangement of automatic hydraulic pumps for raising the level of the sewage in the low lying districts where the unreliable nature of the subsoil prevented an adequate fall for its discharge by gravity. It was interesting to find that it was more economical to procure terracotta and finely dressed granite from England than to use the granite from the opposite side of the River Plate, although the Government was anxious as far as possible to employ native materials and labour. In design and execution these Sanitary Works of Buenos Aires rank amongst the finest in existence.

The plain fact of the matter is that Mr. Bateman's grand scheme, so abused and calumniated, has proved the salvation of Buenos Aires, and our only regret is that the architect of our Municipal salvation has not lived to see his noble work completed, and full justice done to his unrivalled genius by the fullest recognition of his great merit.

THE ORISSA'S MAILS.

DINNER AT WHITEHALL.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

London, Feb. 1st.

The list of famous living Englishmen has been notably shortened. Lord Leighton, Mr. Childers, General "Dick" Lawrence, Sir Joseph Barnby, Mr. Alexander Macmillan—these are some of the names struck off the roll. In humbler circles, too, death has been strikingly busy; 57 lives have been destroyed by a colliery explosion in Wales, and several other fatal accidents and fires have to be reported.

Mr. Chamberlain, Sir Richael Hicks Beach, Lord James, Sir H. H. Fowler, Mr. Long, and Mr. T. W. Russell have been speaking on foreign affairs, and Mr. H. M. Stanley has expressed his opinion on Franco-British relations through the medium of the Figaro. The Duke of Westminster and the Duke of Bedford have spoken with special reference to Armenia. The British Empire League and the Navy League both held meetings in the ordinary course on Wednesday.

In St. Pancras, the Parliamentary seat of the late Sir Julian Goldsmid, has been given by an increased majority to his Unionist kinsman, Mr. Jessel. Two election petitions are now being heard, Haggerston and Sunderland, but the Lancaster petition was dismissed last week.

The new process of photographing through opaque bodies is exciting much interest in scientific and general circles.—Professor Herkomer's new black and white process of printing direct from the artist's work, and a method for extracting zinc from ores hitherto useless.

In the Law Courts several divorce and breach of promise cases involving heavy damages are reported, with a libel age inst a member of an early closing association, and other cases of interest.

Lord Salisbury and a number of his colleagues in the Government, were last night entertained at dinner at the Whitehall Rooms, by the Nonconformist Unionist Association. Sir G. Hayter Chubb presided. Responding to the toast of her Majesty's Ministers, Lord Salisbury acknowledged the obligations the Conservative party were under to his hosts and their supporters in the battle they had waged against Home Rule. As to the relations which the Transvaal bore towards England, he regarded them as an extreme case of Home Rule, and he contended that recent events in that country threw a lurid light on what might have happened in Ireland if Ireland's demands had been conceded. Turning to the controversy with the United States, the Prime Minister asserted that his despatches advocated the Monroe Doctrine as President Monroe understood it. Whilst he admitted the horrors that had been perpetrated in Armenia, he submitted that England alone could not mitigate the evil. If she did not co-operate with the great Powers she must act against them, and thus produce calamities far more awful than the most terrible tale already told.

The Duke of Devonshire last night, at the Queen's Hall, distributed the certificates to the scholars and exhibitioners of the Technical Education Board of the London County Council. He paid a high tribute to the work that is being done by the Board, which, he said, had established something in the nature of a technical university for the County of London. He entertained the greatest respect for, though he failed altogether to understand, the religious convictions and conscientious scruples in reference to education, and he was glad that the development of technical education in London had been unattended by any such discussions.

We are informed by the Colonial Office that in view of a number of telegrams which have been received from the Transvaal representing the existence of various dangers at Johannesburg, Mr. Chamberlain has instructed the British Agent at Pretoria to report on the state of affairs at the former town, and if he finds any immediate grievances capable of redress to draw the attention to them of the Boer Government. At the same time, it is pointed out that the above-mentioned telegrams, which are mostly anonymous, appear to emanate from one small group of persons, and that Mr. Chamberlain does not regard as true the picture they give of the state of affairs.

The report of the Committee appointed by the New York Yacht Club to inquire into Lord Dunraven's charges, together with the testimony of witnesses, is given in a bulky volume of 556 pages. The committee find that the charge made by Lord Dunraven with regard to the ballasting of Defender in the America Cup races is not sustained by the evidence.

Violent storms have swept over Northern Queensland, doing an immense amount of damage to property and shipping. The loss of life by drowning is very great. A hurricane is also reported to have devastated the Tonga Islands.

Representatives of the various vestries and district boards in the metropolis conferred yesterday with members of the London County Council, who had been deputed to discuss with them the question of the transfer to the local authorities of certain powers now possessed by the central authority. Sir Arthur Arnold, in welcoming the delegates, assured them that the Council desired to add to the dignity and importance of the district governments, and to devolve upon them every function that could be most advantageously discharged by them. A large number of subjects were discussed, but in two instances only did the Conference approve of a change being introduced in existing arrangements, one being a proposal to transfer the obligation of maintaining the riverside embankments to the local authorities.

About thirty victims of the Tylorstown Colliery Explosion were buried yesterday at the various cemeteries in the neighbourhood.

Plumpton February Steeplechase commenced yesterday. The February Hurdle Handicap was won by Charles the Third, the Kemp Town Steeplechase by Chip, the Keymer Hurdle Race by Child of the Serpent, the Southdown Steeplechase by Æsop, the Keymer Steeplechase by Katertelto, and the Findon Maiden Hurdle Race by Robert Dow.

In the Divorce Division yesterday the hearing of the suit Cantillo v. Cantillo and Crosby was continued. Evidence was given both by the respondent and the co-respondent, denying the allegations of misconduct made against them. The case was not concluded when the court adjourned.

The Stock Markets opened firm yesterday, and though the best prices were not fully maintained an improvement was established in most departments. Consols rose 1-16 to 108, and were rather scarce for delivery at the monthly settlement. Home Railway stocks were better on the whole, and Canadian and American Railroad Securities advanced. The Bank received £12,000 gold on balance. Silver was unchanged at 30¾ d. per ounce.

THE FIGHT AT KRUGERSDORP

PERSONAL NARRATIVE.

The Cape Times publishes an interesting interview with Captain Thatcher. "I was with Jameson's column from the start to the surrender at Doornkop," he said. "I have just escaped and got here. I was attached to Sir John Willoughby as volunteer aid-de-camp. I knew perfectly well what we were going to do, and so did every other man in the column. Jameson's speech was before I joined—quite at the beginning. I was told all about it, and I know that he explained things thoroughly, and told those whose hearts were not with the movement to go back. We counted on Johannesburg moving out to support us, but we expected no other help from mortal man."

"Did the column realise that it had thrown everything official up, and was going in on its own account under no authority?"—"Absolutely." Describing the fight at Krugersdorp, Captain Thatcher said:—"We could see nobody, and were simply fighting puffs of smoke. Not a head showed anywhere. Those fellows are simply marvellous at taking cover. We got our guns into action again to check them, but we were dropping freely. The firing was being heavily kept up by concealed men, and we were losing men fast. Our one chance was to push on right through without stopping anywhere. And so we came to Doornkop. We soon found ourselves hotly engaged with about 3,000 or 4,000 men intrenched in a really strong position. We were absolutely in the open without cover of any sort, and our fighting strength was by this time reduced to only 200 or 300 men. We were dragging our wounded with us in waggons, and the rest of the force was either looking after these waggons or wounded themselves, or so knocked up with fatigue as to be incapable of firing. We kept up a running fire under those conditions against odds ten to one, from five o'clock in the morning till half past eleven. On On all sides men were heard cursing Johannesburg, though that was the only thing in the way of a complaint that ever reached my ears, save the cries for water of the wounded. With the fire growing thicker every minute, not an enemy visible, our position so hemmed in that there was no cover even at the farmhouse, Jameson determined to waste no more men, and ordered a flag of truce to be hoisted.

"Did the burghers stop firing at once?"

"Not at once, not for ten minutes. They had some artillery from Pretoria, which had just come up on our left flank. And now comes the bitter thing. When the artillery first began to play away, we said, 'Thank God. Here are these Johannesburg fellows at last.' We thought they were our allies. When they turned out to be the enemy, one simply did not feel as though one cared to hang on to life any longer. However, presently, when the white flag was well the seen, and our fire had entirely stopped, up popped men in all directions and came down upon us like swarms of ants out of the earth. Where just before there was not a man to be seen, now the whole countryside seemed suddenly alive with them. Waving their rifles, they rode down on us."

"How did the column behave?"

"The men threw themselves down on the ground, without caring a pin, and tried to go to sleep. A man said to me 'What will they do to us?' and I said, 'Oh, we shall be all shot. But as it turned out they treated us tremendously well, gave us food, and did all they could for us."

Captain Thatcher, as the only volunteer from outside, was dressed differently from the others, and escaped by representing himself to be the Times' correspondent who had just arrived on the scene His opinion of Dr. Jameson's force was that he never saw such a splendid set of fighters in the world. As for "the doctor" himself, he was, in Captain Thatcher's opinion, "simply the grandest man I ever met."

THE LOST ODE.

SCAEVOLA ON THE TRACK.

Our classical readers and even those who have forgotten their Latin will take an interest in the expedition undertaken by our juvenile editor in search of the lost ode to Ireland. Our Tory friends will stand aghast at a discovery which shews that Ireland's fame was known to the Romans, but, although we never like to hurt anyone's, never a Tory's feelings, we rejoice to think that it will be the Standard's privilege to quash all doubt as to the antiquity of Hibernian grandeur. Faithful to our promise, we now give an account of the extraordinary incident which placed in the hands of Scævola the positive and absolute proof of the existence of a Horatian ode to Ireland. An eye-witness, an active member of our night-staff, "tiene la palabra."

It was on the evening of the 19th Sept., 1895. It was nine o'clock. We had just set to work on the first batch of Havas telegrams when a yell, followed by a groan, suddenly startled us from our labors. Out we all rushed, accompanied by foreman and printers. We turned into the tunnel and in the penumbra we could perceive a human frame leaning against the wall, right under the gas-light with which we wisely adulterate the darkness of the famed passage. It was Scævola, and as we approached, we could hear him say. "Shade of Poe. The lost books of Livy were nothing to this!"

Perceiving us, he exclaimed: "Boys, my vandalic stupidity has destroyed a treasure." (Here he sighed like a furnace). "I was coming along the passage with that cigar in my hand" (pointing to a lighted Bock which lay on the cemented flooring, and which the passing wind was smoking), "It was given to me by Pressinger as a reward for my patience in listening to his confounded puns. I felt an inclination to smoke it, but I had no matches. You know I never carry matches. I bent down to pick up a slip of paper. At least it appeared to me to be a slip of paper, but it was a piece of parchment, which I at once recognised as the missing piece from the covering of Hobbes' Leviathan in our museum. I applied the parchment to that gas light and then proceeded to ignite my cigar, when lo! letters appeared on the yellowish surface. My thoughts immediately reverted to invisible ink, cryptograms and the story of the Golden Bug, and it seemed to me that I held in my hand the secret of the 70,000 ounces buried in STANDARD Court. I extinguished the flame and began to read. See, it is Latin, but it deals with a treasure of far more importance than the ounces, and the flame has cut off the most interesting part of it. Here you have the proof of what I have always told you, that Horace wrote an ode to Ireland."

As the light was dim and flickering, we repaired to the sanctum to decipher the strange communication. It was as follows (we give the translation alongside):

Michael Flanaganus, Lutetiæ, Mylatrio suo maximo, Brundusii Hospiti.

A te hisce litteris quæso ut Horatio clarissimo Romanorum poetæ, carmen illud gratiaris quod Juvernæ cecinit et se carminum suorum volumini post oden ad Septimium additurum promisit. Missum a te exemplar accepi carmenque operam dabo ut in nitidum marmor incinatur.

Michael Flanagan, of Paris, to his friend Mylatrius the eldest, staying at Brundusium.

By this letter I beg you will congratulate Horace, the most celebrated poet of the Romans, on the ode which he has sung to Ireland and which he has promised to place in his volume of odes after that addressed to Septimus. The copy you sent me I have received. I will have the ode engraved on a beautiful block of marble.

"You see, boys," said Scævola, "there was a sort of penny post in those days. Horace evidently met Mylatrius at the inn in Brundusium during the famous trip which the bard has so graphically described. He at once composed the ode, a copy of which Mylatrius must have sent by the following mail to his friend Michael Flanagan in Paris. The latter, charmed with the production, had it engraved on marble, but the flame has destroyed that part of the letter which probably described the spot where that block was to be placed. However, that block is in Paris, for blocks of marble do not travel about, and to Paris I go by the next boat. But stop, hand me down that copy of Horace. The letter says: 'after the ode to Septimus.' Let us have a look at that."

He soon found the ode. Suddenly he bounded up and shouted, "Didn't I tell you? Why the next ode is precisely that in which Horace says he ran away from the battle-field. There's the proof now that that scandalous ode is apocryphal."

Three days later, on the 22nd of September, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, gathered at the head of the Darsena, we bade good-bye to Scævola, who went off in a small steamer to catch the Equateur, en route for Paris. His last words were Horatian:

Cras ingens iterabimus æquor.

That he has the ode in his possession we have not the slightest doubt, for on the 4th we received a wire from him announcing his return by the boat of the 5th, which "by the lamp of Hibernian feeling" we read: Ode found!

PARAGUAYAN CHACO.

To the Editor of the STANDARD,

Sir,

Referring to your article on the above in to-day's issue, in justice to Don Pedro Freund, it should not be forgotten that he was the first white man to undertake in a systematic manner the opening up of that country, without detracting in the slightest from the great services Mr. Grubb and the other missionaries have rendered to the Indians and the landowners there.

Mr. Freund on his first trip into the Chaco nearly 8 years ago wrote "Danger from Indians does not exist, and those who form estancias later will find them of the greatest use." It has always been the policy of those who conducted the numerous exploring and surveying journeys to treat the Indians well, so that they shall get the impression that they have nothing to fear from the white man and in fact, that he will only benefit them in distinction from the ancient and continual policy of the Argentines, whose troops being allowed bad and scanty rations and small pay have enlivened their dull existence and filled their pockets, and also recruited their ranks by making continual raids on the Indians, until the latter look upon a white man as "poison" and are driven to make reprisals, and are now on their way to be exterminated.

The Paraguayan Indian, on the contrary, having no experience of such short-sighted and unhuman policy, and only having come in contact with Mr. Freund and his surveying parties and the missionaries, not only does not fear the white man, but looks upon him as a friend, and will, undoubtedly, in the near future be of great service to the estancieros there.

The work that Mr. Freund and the missionaries, headed by Mr. Grubb, are doing is of very great importance. They are not only saving from extermination a whole nation of aborigines and civilizing them, but also they are opening up one of the richest and most fertile portions of the Plate basin, and making practicable even now the utilization of the magnificent pasturage, second to none in the world, and without doubt destined to be the great cattle producing portion, the Texas of the Plate, and the exploitation of the splendid quebracho forests, until now untouched. Sugar grown there is superior to that of Tucuman and Salta, and will, no doubt, far undersell that from those provinces; there being a regular rain fall, irrigation is unnecessary, frosts are unknown, and cheap water carriage can in no way be compared with the long and expensive railway journey from those inland provinces.

The price of land there being at present so insignificant, no doubt, numbers of estancias will shortly spring up, the initial work having been so successfully done by Messrs. Freund and Grubb.

Yours faithfully,

A. Busk.

THE MURDER OF A PRIEST IN SOHO.

TRIAL AND SENTENCE.

Draguignan (Var.), Jan. 23.

The trial concluded here to-day of the man named Victor Robello on the charge of having murdered and robbed his master, the Abbé Gabriel Segui, Chief Chaplain of the Army of the Argentine Republic, in London, about two years ago. Robello, who was a French emigrant to Buenos Ayres, accompanied the Abbé Segui on a pleasure tour to Europe as his man servant. Segui was found dead in a hotel in Soho, having apparently committed suiside by hanging. Certain circumstances, however, gave rise to the suspicion that he had been murdered, but for a time no trace could be found of the assassin. Some months after Segui's death two men had a violent altercation in a café at Toulon, and both were arrested. One of them, on being questioned as to his identity, declared that he was the Abbé Segui, Chief Chaplain of the Argentine Forces, and produced a number of papers which appeared to bear out his statement. Other papers, however, were found at his lodgings bearing the name of Robello; and the prisoner, who had apparently acted in the belief that he had rendered the identification of the deceased impossible by carrying off all his papers, finally had to admit that that was his name. Afterwards he also admitted having stolen Segui's money and papers, but persistently repelled the charge of murder. Information furnished by the London police afforded strong support to the case against him, and Robello was to-day found guilty of having murdered Segui, of having robbed him, and of having forged certain documents. The jury granted Robello the benefit of extenuating circumstances, and he was sentenced to hard labour for life.

PAPER MONEY?

Dear Mr. Editor,

Your correspondent, in his article of the 25th inst. on "Paper Money", has misquoted a passage from "an old book, a very old book", as follows: that "Money is the root of all evil". Now, if he will kindly oblige me by turning to Timothy 6-10 he will find that "the wise man of the East" said, "The love of money is the root of all evil"—a very great difference, I take it. For, if properly used, I maintain that a very large amount of good can be done by the possessor of a large income. To seek an example, we have no further to go than Baroness Burdett Coutts.

Thanking you in anticipation for a corner in your valuable paper,

I remain,

Yours truly.

Another Mac.

SPORT

TURF.

As the racing season opens again on Sunday, interest is already manifest as to the conditions of the various studs, specially as regards the two-year-olds, of which we understand, a couple at least, of the most promising, will sport silk the first day. As a rumour from the studs we hear that the Curumalan youngsters have given the greatest satisfaction all round, though a very brilliant hope was cut off when Brett lost Beduino—a regular flier. Still he has another very useful St. Honorat in Cloister, and we hear that this colt has come on splendidly, looks like a four year old and has the evenest of tempers. The Chacabuco lot have also come on so well that trainers think these two strains will account for a big proportion of this year's money. The Stud Confianza have a charming filly Maria Inez by St. Honorat that great things are expected of, whilst the sister to Primera in the Stud Titan is, they say, for looks alone worth going a long way to see. Josefita, a Whipper-in filly, entered to run on Sunday, is considered very smart indeed, a remark also applicable to Orsino. It is, of course, premature yet to form any judgment whatsoever, but those that consider themselves entitled to do so think that this year's two-year-olds will be an excellent lot.

The following are the handicaps for the first meeting:—

Premio Destructor—1600 metres—Primrose 51 kilos, Juncal 53 do, Coral 60½ do, Huri 54 do, Citron 57, Loadstone 50 do, Bacheliere 49 do, Financista 55 do, Rose Royale 58 do and Torre de Marfil 48 do.

Premio Ituzaingo—200 metres—Pick-Pocket 53 kilos, Espoir 50 do, Ciro 50 do, Yankee 59 do, Sebastopol 62 do and Cantiniere 53 do.

Premio Landseer—1200 metres—Primrose 53 kilos, Constance 58 do, Zorro 56, do, Hada 48 do, Driade 45 do, Osmond 59½ do, Debora 54 do, Bab 47 do, La Fortuna 65 do, Bend'or 56 do, Grillon 53 do and Hipolito 52 do.

Premio Hipocrita—1800 metres—Argenteuil 46 kilos, Pick-Pocket 54 do, San Lorenzo 48 do, Espoir 47 do, Cantiniere 54 do, Huri 50 do, Yankee 60½ do, Rayón d'or 44 do, Clandestino 45 and Sarandi 48 do.

SIXTH MATCH—V. FIFTEEN OF NATAL.

A three days' match between Lord Hawke's twelve and fifteen of Natal was commenced on a matting wicket at Durham on Jan. 23rd. Intense heat prevailed, but there was nevertheless a numerous gathering of spectators. The visitors batted first, and were all disposed of for 154 runs, to which Lohmann contributed thirty-six. Mr. Fry thirty-three, Sir T. C. O'Brien twenty five and Mr. Miller twenty-two. Natal responded with 100, nine of their wickets being credited to Lohmann for forty-two runs and five to Mr. Bromley-Davenport for forty-five. The second innings of the visitors closed for 173, (Sir T. C. O'Brien thirty-eight, Lohmann thirty-one, Mr. Fry twenty-three, Mr. Woods twenty-two), and the Colonials had therefore to make 228 to win on the third day. They punished the English bowling so severely that the required number of runs was obtained for the loss of but five wickets, and victory thus rested with Natal by nine wickets. Lieut. R. M. Poore, of the 7th Hussars, who displayed such good form for Pietermaritzburg, batted in brilliant style, and although no fewer than eight bowlers were tried, he carried out his bat for 107. Lohmann took three wickets for forty and Mr. Fry one for thirty-two runs.

THE AUSTRALIAN TEAM.

A Reuter's telegram from Sydney says that the following have been definitely selected to form the Australian cricket team to visit England during the forthcoming season: J. Eady, Tasmania; T.R. McKibben, F. A. Iredale, S. Gregory and H. Donnan, New South Wales; H. Trott, T. Graham, H. Trumble, Johns and J. Harry. Victoria; and G. Giffen, E. Jones and J. Darling, South Australia.

The Southern Railway offers to purchase 2,200 sleepers at $14 per ton.

Mr. Lisandro Gordillo, chief clerk of the Railway Board, has been promoted to the post of Inspector. This is an exeellent appointment, as Mr. Gordillo is one of the best hands in the Railway Board Office.

The Engineers Department has advised the Minister of the Interior to approve the plans of the Rosario Railway for relaying the permanent way that gives access to the Retiro Station, and the bracing of the line along the river bank.

Government has approved the plans of the Pacific Company for a building at Junin station, but the cost is not to come under the guarantee. The Company is also allowed to erect a shed for grain at the same station.

The Engineers' Department has asked the Minister of the Interior to declare lapsed General Mansilla's concession for a railway round the city.

LA PLATA.

(From our own Correspondent).

Feb. 25th.

The Senate met to-day but the business transacted was relatively unimportant. A Bill was sanctioned for opening a supplementary credit for $40,000 for payment of a balance in the public-lighting bill of La Plata for 1895.

Senator Alsina brought forward a motion declaring Art. 7 of the Stamped paper law, to be contrary to the spirit and letter of the law; and the Finance Minister gave certain explanations with respect to that Art. and also to No 6.

The Ensenada Railway will from this date, on working days, run from Quilmes a train at 12.20 p.m. timed to reach the Central at 1 p.m.

The school-children of this city are to be forced to school, willingly or unwillingly; and special commissions are to be appointed to hunt up the lads and lassies who attempt to play truant.

Phylloxera has appeared near the Villa Elisa station, and a circular has been sent by Dr. Frers to all the Provincial Mayors, urging them, if merely for patriotism's sake, to afford every facility to the Commissioner appointed to examine the vines of the Province; also to set their alcaldes and teniente-alcaldes to work to carefully examine the neighbouring vines.

The rumour that the Director de Rentas, Dr. Achaval, was about to resign has turned out a "bola". So much the better. He is the right man in the right place.

THEATRES.

Señor Ciacchi, one of the most interprising, aad energetic caterers for public amusement, has for some time past been in Europe in search of novelties, with excellent results. In a telegram just to hand, we note that he has engaged the excellent, and well known Tomba Company, which left Barcelona on Monday last, in the "Duchessa di Genova" and will debut here on or about the 15th of next month, either in the Politeama or Victoria.

He has also made arrangements with the well known Dramatic Company "Italia-Vitaliani", which will be here during the autumn. This Company has a grand reputation, and is said to be surpassed only by the famous Company led by Señora Duse.

In addition to the above, Sr, Ciacchi has also come to terms with Pantalena's comic Neapolitan Company, so that the public may look forward to plenty of diversion during the coming winter. The popular Empresario remains in Europe to superintend the embarkation of the two last named Companies, and expects to leave on the 24th of next month.

The North American Steam Riding Gallery, the latest thing out. This is a grand improvement on the old round-about, as the horses gallop, independent of the general movement. It is an excellent amusement for young and old, and is well worth a visit. It a situated at the top of Barranca Maipu corner of Calle Arenales close to the Pabellon.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

"Kick him hard; he has no friends" was again the exultant shout of the Ursines yesterday as they fell on the unfortunate Gold Eagle. Down he went, and his foes danced on him. Blue ruination stares the miserable Bulls in the face on Saturday. Like the Cuban and Abyssinian wars, and the Venezuelan question, the fall in gold has become monotonous, and the public care little about it, as traders have not reduced the price of imported goods, nor won't if they can help it. The weather was cool and the news from the rest of the world was n't hot. Seaside and camp swallows are beginning to return to their city nests, especially the "jovenes dorados", who want to make their books for the opening of the racing season next Sunday.

Hello! "Pas si vite!" The Cubans in Paris and elsewhere and our cousin Senator Morgan in Washington are a little "too previous". Weyler is not exactly forced to take to his ships as yet. Yesterday we received from Paris a copy of La República Cubana. It is a nice paper and we salute it; but like other great papers and people, it's ahead of its time.

We feel much pleasure in saluting our eminent sartorial friend Mr. Skinner, of the firm of Skinner & Mac Hannaford, who has just returned from Europe with such a lot of "novedades" as will make an Adonis of each of his numerous customers.

Telegraph men are all most tremendously wiry and hard to kill. The cable brings the glad tiding that the veteran Sir John Pender, who was considered booked for the next world a fortnight ago, has made a rally and intends to remain above ground for some time yet.

All gentlemen interested in the presentation to Mr. C. P. Robinson are requested to note that it will take place to-night in the Beer-Convent, corner of Cuyo and Maipu, at 9 o'clock, when it is hoped that all will be present.

On Saturday next the Minister of War will leave for Bahia Blanca, accompanied by Count Antonelli, the Italian Minister Engineer Luiggi, Mr. W. While C. E., Mr. Brian C. E. and others to have a look at the place and see what Mr. Luiggi thinks of it as a place for a military port. The distinguished party will return on Tuesday.

Ho! Ho! The Telephone Companies are raising fits with the Municipality, owing to the interruption and injury to their business by the Carnival serpentines getting entangled in the wires and stopping the transmission of the voice. Better they had kept their mouths shut, but, like the corpse of the "abuelo', in President Montt's story to Barros Arana, they could n't; and now the Municipality threatens to make them put their wires underground, if they have such a morose objection to the gay and festive serpentine.

The "clangor tubarum" business requires a lot of ready cash. The Intendencia de Guerra is to get $300,000 down on the nail for preliminary National Guard expenses.

There was n't a word new from Chile yesterday about the Boundary muddle. An evening colleague says that the delay now is in the Government House here, not in the Moneda. What's the reason of this? We hope when our Foreign Office "takes the word" it won't put up gold. Funnier things have happened. Our shipping man tells us that what is wanting now is a bombshell to put up freights.

Another "novedad". The North American Steam Riding Gallery, the latest invention of its kind, is now running afternoons and evenings at Plaza San Martin, near the Pavilion. It is adapted to both old and young. People are coming by the carriage load with their children to enjoy a ride on the galloping horses, and hear the fine automatic organ.

Engineer Luiggi is a polite man like all his countrymen, and professes himself delighted with the Zarate Arsenal. He did n't exactly say that Spezia was nothing to it; but he smiled and nodded unutterable things. In a few days he will leave for Bahia Blrnca, San Blas and Santa Cruz, and then his eye will be opened as to the magnitude of the job he has undertaken.

More about roulette: this time from Monte Carlo, not Mar del Plata:—"Among the punters at Monte Carlo may be seen Prince Poniatowski and several of the entourage of the morganatic Dowager Empress of Russia, and also the Contesse de Miranda—better known as the divine Nillson. The luck of the former is quite extraordinary, both at "roulette" and at "trente-et-quarante"; at the former table I saw him place some louis "en plein" on No. 23, and "á cheval" between 23 and 20 —up came 23, he left them down and up came No. 20! And as the croupier had already called out "les deux derniers coups," this finished the evening's amusement, and he had no opportunity of disipating the large stake he had won.

Some preternaturally wise people shook their heads and winked knowingly yesterday at the Pax Muha news from Chile that Congress will be summoned to extra session next month to consider a new Municipality Law. How likely! An extra session for such a purpose! The Chilian Municipalities must be in an awful hurry for reform. Our peace-loving "vecinos' have been counting their National Guards and find they can muster 117,000.

The Washington Senate has passed the motion asking President Cleveland to recognize the Cubans as belligerents; but it does not follow that the portly ruler of the great republic will see fit to do it. In any case it will raise the dander of the haughty Dons. The report of Maceo's death turns out to be another telegraphic fib.

After being "out" over six weeks, the carriage builders have won their strike. For the future they will get the same wages for working only eight hours a day.

The Arrow of yesterday opens with a phototype of the church of Santa Bárbara in Jujuy, which is about the most venerable church edifice in the whole republic. There is a very interesting story by Miss Doughty, who is one of the lady teachers at the Lomas Grammar School. The late shews literary abilities of a very high character; and we should not be surprised to see Miss Doughty take a good place among our lady short story writers. In reference to a recent roulette event at the Argentine Brighton, our colleague dashes into verse as follows:—

As in Maipú Street, I wandered with a sad and pensive air,
I went down STANDARD Court to see our latest millionaire,
With bated breath, but glad surprise
At length refreshed. I cast my eyes
On the man that broke the Bank at Mar del Plata.

In contra distinction to our little red-faced colleague, our Heraldic brother of the pen has tumbled headlong into the trap, and delivered himself of a most edifying homily on the horrors of editorial gambling. "A propos," here's a gambling story from the Herald's own big republic:

"A few years ago," he said, "about this time of the year I was out in Florida with some friends, and visited a church where some 'coloured' people were engaged in worship. It was the old story: the meeting-house roof leaked, and the pastor prayed most fervently for funds to repair the roof. A collection was started, the pastor saying that special blessings would be asked for all contributors. One good brother put in a dime.

"A dime from Brudder Jones. De Lord bless Brudder Jones."

Then a quarter of a dollar was received.

"Brudder Johnson, a quatah. De Lord bless Brudder Johnson."

The collector reached the gambler, who had had a big winning night, and he put a twenty dollar bill in the hat.

The almost breathless collector said:—"Wha's de name sah?"

"Never mind the name. I am a gambler from Ohio."

"Gamblah from Ohio, twenty dollahs", shouted the collector.

The pastor rolled his eyes up, and raising his hands, said, in a voice choking with emotion—

"Twenty dollars from Ohio. May de good Lo'd bless and prospah de noble gamblah from Ohio."

Then the harmonium burst forth.

The Transvaal is determined to keep itself well "en evidence" since that martial "medico" Dr. Jameson gave it the chance. First a "fite", then a dynamite explosion, and now a first-chop fire that cost £75.000 stg. That's the way to keep the world's attention awake.

Again yesterday there were hints in the cablegrams that Lord Salisbury is negotiating with France for the evacuation of Egypt. Britishers here are asking themselves if it can possibly be true? The news comes this time from Rome, where the Foreign Office is one of the best posted in Europe. What will happen in England if the Lord of Hatfield gives up the key of the world?

The rumour that the National Guards of 20 years old who are told off for the autumn manoeuvres are to go to Salta and Jujuy has made the young warriors, families rather nervous about that ugly ailment "chucho" which prevails in those regions. Its all a question of a proper Medical Department with the troops. However, 'chucho' or no 'chucho', go they must. The latest, news, however, is that either Necochea or Bahia Blanca will be the chosen ground, and the Minister of War is going to both places to elect between them.

Special Notices.

The public welcome of the Methodist Episcopal annual conference will take place to-night at 8 p.m. in the church, 718 Corrientes. Rev. Daniel McGurk will deliver an address of welcome in English and Rev. G. P. Howard in Spanish. Rev. J. H. Keely of Rosario will reply in English and Rev. Francisco Penzotti of Peru in Spanish. The Lord's Supper will follow the service welcome. All are cordially invited. 1085 25 26

ON 'CHANGE.

Tnesday, February, 25th 1896.
Gold Premium.

FIRST RING 202.00%
SECOND RING..... 201.00%

This was another field-day on'Change and the Rubicon was nearly crossed at 200% premium amidst the triumphant yells of the brokers and plaudits of outsiders. The whole market is turned inside out by the tremendous fall in gold; a wave of good-humor has swept over the hall, and it is quite evident that the turn in the tide is viewed with favor by the majority, although "consignatarios," live-stock brokers, and others whose interests lie in high paper prices are growling furiously over the dead-lock in their respective branches of trade. Meantime the current of the fall in gold is growing in velocity, and this morning at one moment it looked as if the whole Bolsa was rushing pêle-mêle to sell gold.

In the midst of an active, feverish speculation 1½ million gold dollars were banged away this morning. Business for cash exceeded half a million; the premium opened at 202%, fell to 200%, rose to 203 %, and closed at 202%. Over a quarter of a million was sold for the end of the month: the premium opened at 201% and closed at 202½ %. Business for the end of March embraced three hundred thousand dollars: the premium opened at 204 %, fell to 203 ½, rose to 206½ %, and closed at 204%—say 4 points contango. One hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of April at 207 to 210%, closing at 209 ½ % premium. The market closed flat.

The boom in stocks continued. We hear that large amounts of National Cedulas F were negotiated privately for London account, all these Cedulas will now be taken up by foreign capitalists. The sales on the black board did not amount to much but the price ran up fast to 87. Edificadora shares rose to 78, holders ask 80. A bagatella was done in Municipal Bonds at 78, National Bonds were steady at 76. One hundred shares of the Banco de Italia y Rio de la Plata changed hands at 72 gold. Catalinas ran up with lightning speed to 5.40!!

The boom in London continues also and is reflected in our midst. Funding Bonds have gone over 83, Public Works bonds to 76, 3¼ per cents to 40, and telegrams announce a general scramble for Argentine paper. We may take it for granted that London, Berlin, and Frankfurt-am-Main will now make a clean sweep of all the paper stocks of any good standing in this market. The sudden rise in Cedulas F shows how the wind blows.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

A crowd of well-known bankers, railway-managers, capitalists and estancieros arrived at the Plaza Constitucion this morning from Mar del Plata. Mr. R. A. Thurburn was back in his banking parlor to-day, and Mr. Barrow in his railway parlor in the Plaza Constitucion. Our Senior-editor, Mr. E. T. Mulhall, came back also this morning.

The following is the new Board of Management of the City of Buenos Aires Mortgage Bank Co.: Messrs. Luis Garcia, A. Bracht, A. Moen: Suplentes—Josué Moreno, Gaston Mallmann, A. Mercier, José Peró, A. Rodriguez-Orey: Syndic—C. A. Aldao, Suplente—A. Lodola.

The meeting of the shareholders of the Buenos Aires Insurance Company has been put off till 3rd March. We understand that the Board will declare a dividend of 4%.

The exchange market ruled quiet all day at unaltered rates, viz:—

48 5/16 ⅜d on London.
5.09—5.09 ¼ fcs. on France.
5.10—5.10 ¼ fcs. on Belgium.
4.13¾ mks. on Germany.

Paper money ruled in stirring demand. Discounts in paper were steady at 8 to 8½ %. Gold bills were nominal at 7%.

Telegrams from Rio de Janeiro quoted exchange on London at 9d.

Mr. J. P. Wileman was welcomed to-day on his arrival from Rio Grande. He states that the Brazilian market is absorbing such large quantities of Argentine products that it is time for Argentina to make some concessions in the customs tariff. Mr. Rice of the American man-of-war Newark was also welcomed on his arrival from Montevideo: he says the Yantic will come up shortly for a month or two in these waters.

Argentina's meat export to port of Liverpool alone was as follows for the year 1895:—

Live-stock—Steers 13,465, head wethers 112,151, horses 111 head. Total 125 727 head.

Frozen meat—Wethers 1.442,825, quarters 108,159, quarters beef 10,963, hogs 145.

Liverpool on the other hand sent us 27 horses; 316 cows, 1,988 head sheep and 188 pigs, all fine stock.

This gives an insight, if any were needed, into the importance of the trade, accounting for the stern opposition that the Government's prohibitive measures have met with.

We were betrayed into quite an involuntary mistake in our last issue, announcing that at the call for purchase of 250 Edificadora shares, 860 were offered. We understand that 560 was the figure, and as there are 23,300 in circulation still, this shows that the stock is well held.

What is puzzling the market is the recent publication of the Provincial Mortgage Bank about the Cedula issues, amounts amortized and still in circulation. People professing to know hint that the figures given are all wrong or at least misleading, and later publication made with a view to clearing up the mist only makes it all the thicker—a regular Scotch infusion. The figures do not agree nor totals tally, and the bank board would do well to publish the balance in full and let the market work out the matter for itself as these partial statements have only tended to make "confusion worse confounded."

The bad effects of a weak harvest are still evident in Rosario and the Santa Fé colonies in a wave of execution for debt that has set the whole province by the ears. Tha farmers are at their wits' end to carry on, and as money is scarce and hard to get, the tradespeople are just as much puzzled how they are to tide over. It is only too probable that the squeeze will cause a collapse of credit and bring failure in its wake. The firm of Blaisser, an important house in Cañada de Gomez, whose failure was reported a few days ago, has been granted a moratorium.

The news of the formation of a land company in Antwerp to take up and work a big stretch or stretches of camp in Paraguay has given tone to the advices from Asuncion, where the business seems to have created an excellent impression, unused as our friends the Paraguayans are to seeing their country made the object for the investment of capital on a large scale. This new concern is styled the Rural Belga Sud America, the capital being 2,260 shares of 500 francs each, or say 1,130,000 francs, which ten Belgian merchants have covered, so that there is no doubt about the business in spite of the details being kept in reserve.

The Valvoline Oils supplied to the Navy by the leading firm of J. A. Bennet and Co. were so favourably reported upon by the Engineers of Captain Barilari's squadron that Government ordered the Intendencia de Marina to contract with Messrs Bennet and Co. for a supply of 9,000 cases. We understand the contract was signed this morning, and we congratulate this firm on their success.

Circulars were handed round to-day announcing that Mr. Robert A. Young, has joined the leading firm of Hardy and Co as partner and manager, Mr. Reginald Mold receiving full power of attorney.

We believe there is some difficulty about the payment of the 12% dividend declared at the last meeting of shareholders of the Banco Provincial de Tucuman. As the Banco Nacional is a heavy creditor an arrangement was entered into in 1892 not to pay any dividends till the bank had worked off its liabilities, which it has succeeded in doing to the extent of clearing off 2½ million dollars. The board, therefore, now thinks that the Banco Nacional should allow the distribution of the 12% proposed.

Over six hundred thousand gold dollars were sold at the second ring in a comparatively steady market—one would suppose that the premium is afraid to cross the Rubicon. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars were sold for to-morrow delivery: the premium opened at 201.50 % and closed at 201 %. Two hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of the month, the premium closing at 201.50 %. Over one hundred thousand dollars were sold for the end of March: the premium opened at 206 %, rose to 206.50 %, fell to 205, and closed at 205.50 %. The premium for end of April closed at 208 %. National Cedulas F fell in the evening to 85.50 % and closed at 85.70. Catalinas held out at 5.40. A few Spanish Bank shares changed hands at 110.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

The auctioneers do not seem to have quite got over the relaxing influence of Carnival tide yet, as business at the marts is almost insufferably dull. Funes and Lagos were the only firm busy to-day with the following sale:—

There seems to be a pronounced boom in real estate in the city of Holy Faith, as at an auction held there on Sunday: sites to the north ran as high as 10 dollars the metre. If this continues, the boom will soon get out of hand altogether and run riot.

We had the pleasure of a visit to-day from Mr. Nicholas T. Murphy the first Hibernian auctioneer that has ever raised a hammer in this renowned city, though he is prepared to sell everything and anything, here or anywhere, a programme that covers a big area. His adv. will be found in another column, and we augur him lots of business as his colleagues are the busiest and most money-making people in the country.

The following transactions are reported from Arrecifes:—

Messrs. Martinez Dorna and Co. have sold to Messrs. Raggio Carneiro and Co 200 steers at $100 each. Messrs. José Maria Mendez and Co. sold from the estancia La caldera 500 steers at $40 each.

The rural Show in Ayacucho opened yesterday and is proving a great success. A lot of Lincoln's from Don Manuel Aguirre's estancia called much attention, the other estancias to the fore being Mrs. A. Fahy's Los Piños, Martinez and Leones' El Ponoy, Mr. Newton's San Ramon. Zarazola's Carolina, Aispurua's Chelforo, Mr. Arata's La Petrona and Mr. Milani's La Fabrica of Chascomus.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The same dismal howl! Gold down and gold tumbling still does not improve the prospects of the produce markets. Who would have thought that the London market could upset the firm basis on which the premium was standing a short time ago. Those interested in shares, etc. rejoice over the sudden turn, where the pinch comes in is with farmers. With all speculation, wheat, maize and linseed are trotting slowly, but surely ahead; for the moment the latter is weak, a spurt, however, may send the article up to-morrow and leave exporters with uplifted heads watching the rising quotations.

Business was somewhat stationary to-day: the markets missed the usual attendance of buyers and sellers; these gentlemen preferred to adjourn to the Bolsa to discuss the downfall of the Gold Eagle and the rise in Argentine stocks. That is all very well, but it must be considered that the vessels in the docks are still waiting for cargo, and whether gold goes up or down is a secondary matter to them.

The "derrumbe" in gold threw cold water on all wool operations. There was a perplexed look about consignatarios, some wanted to hold on, others wanted to sell, the latter, however, carried the field and sold about 400,000 kilos. Prices went down; parcels that a few days ago would have fetched 11 dollars were sold this morning at 10, fine wools tumbled from 10 to 8 and 8.30. With all this the telegrams from Antwerp report the demand brisk and prices on a rise. One can account for the present situation as follows—the scare of the premium falling still lower has to a certain extent undermined the basis on which the markets have been working, and has put consignatarios in a rather squeamish corner.

In the large sale of wool spoken of as sold by Kenny and Co. last week, are included the wools of three of Mr. John Moore's estancias, obtaining $9, 9.50 and 10 for the Lincoln class, and $8.60 for the fine, and 8.20, 9.50 and 10 for the lambs wool, also is included Mrs. Morgan's from her estancia La Margarita, at San Antonio de Areco, 60,000 kilos sold at 9.10 and the lambs at 9. In December last they sold the wool of her estancia Caracoles, Fray Bentos, B. O., at an average price of $8.50, duty paid, and which was considered a very good price compared with the prices paid on the other side. Judging from the increase of wools from the Uruguay it is quite possible this may be their market with time.

The following were the principal sales in the markets:—

Those who wish to sell cereals find plenty of opportunities to-day; the markets and docks are crowded with exporters who are anxiously trying to meet their engagements. Wheat did not obtain the same high prices as yesterday, but nevertheless the margin between the two day's rates was insignificant. In the London market Argentine cereals have had a spurt, the demand is far brisker, prices remaining at their old quotations. The "consumo" here is too strong for the export, the local demand can afford to pay prices that are far beyond the reach of exporters. The reigning authorities to-day are the millers, who, having to comply with internal contracts, are obliged to pick up everything that comes their way. A special lot of French wheat was banged away at 8.60; the lot, however, was a small affair, and cannot command much influence as to prices. Maize, as usual, finds an outlet in every corner, in fact the demand is greater than the arrivals. The yellow maize does not seem to command the same respect as usual; the principal sales were effected at 3.30. The operations in morocho were large, but the market closed slack in prices; 2.60 and 2.90 were the current rates. The French markets opened with more activity in linseed, several operations were made at 19 ¼ francs; in London the same prices exist as previously. The demand here is improving slightly; 1,000 bags were sold at 9.60. In the Once the rates are from 9 to 9.80, in the Catalinas from 9.60 to 9.85, and in the Riachuelo 9.50.

A few weeks ago public attention was attracted by the large shipments of butter from here; the following cutting from an exchange gives an interesting description on the quality es well as growing trade of Argentina butter:—

ARGENTINE BUTTER.

The Argentine Republic is rapidly becoming an important competitor for the supply of butter to British markets, following in this respect the lead of Denmark, Sweden, France, Australasia, and Canada. Not only are cattle plentiful, but there is an abundance of fine pasture land over which the animals roam, and they are merely corralled at night in charge of the gauchos, or natives, who are pastoralists by nature, the camps being moved about from place to place as the pasturage requires. The gauchos are left to perform the duties of herdsmen, but all the other work is done by Europeans. The Italians and Basques take very readily to dairy work, and their wages are generally only about 1s. a day. The herds of cattle, while wandering over the pampas, are kept within comparatively easy reach of a railway. The milk is sent by train to the nearest butter factory, and there are already from 20 to 30 of these factories, several of them fitted up with the latest dairy appliances from England. The machinery is admitted duty free. It is claimed for the butter that it is perfectly pure and exceedingly rich.

The fall in the gold premium has had the effect of a sledge-hammer blow on the Rosario markets. Consternation, paralyzation and stagnation are clearly visible in the operations. The saving point in the market was that several holders fearing a further fall in gold decided to let go, and for this reason the following sales were effected:—7000 quintals of wheat at 6.85, 2000 do at 6.90 and 2500 bags at 6.80. Two lots of 4000 quintals were also picked up at 7.10, these prices, however, are only paid by pushed exporters. The "consumo" is the only operator in maize, exporters have fallen out of the market; 3.10 was the highest price offered for export, but no contracts were signed, other classes were quoted at 2.60 and 2.85.

Contrary to expectation, the news from Europe on linseed has not altered the situation in it, the article is if anything weaker than before. The market is full of sellers, the hitch being to find a buyer, which is "a rara avis." Prices have not changed.

Wheat wore a better aspect to-day in Montevideo and having found sufficient demand struck out for higher prices. The market is well aware that several millers have large contracts to fulfil and on this basis it intends working up the rates. But with all their efforts prices did not pass 2.55, the tendency was to push them over 2.60.

The sales were about 5800 bags at prices ranging from 2.30 to 2.50, Brazil and Europe keep up a strong competition in maize, several large lots were picked up for both markets, Brazil taking the lead. exporters for that quarter not being so particular in their selections as the others. Between the two some 25,000 bags were sold at 95 cents and at 1 dollar. Messrs. C. Croker and son sold from their saladero in Arroyo Negro from 2 to 3000 steer hides of 31 kilos at 19.25. Several vessels have been freighted for jerked beef and tallow.

The favorable news from Europe has acted like a flash on the wool market, large sales have been made, but the strictest reserve is maintained, the other sales reached 22,000 kilos at prices from 2.40 to 2.45 per 10 kilos.

IT IS a well known and deplorable fact that Carnival is the only time of the year when a great many people knock about masked, in order to show themselves, as they really are, thereby making life unbearable to their fellow-beings. Fleeing from the temporary carni-vale of tears, there is no better joy close at hand than to place one self and those dear to one's heart, under the majestic Ombu of the sylvan fields, with a quantity of bottled good will and happiness and a box of the Tit-Bits biscuits. Just try and you will know for yourself. 697 15 30

RIVER STEAMERS

The steamers Eolo, Golondrina and Labrador are expected to-morrow from Montevideo at the South Basin; Eolo will leave in the afternoon for the same port.

GENERAL.

The Captain of the Brit. s.s. Llanthony Abbey reported to day that on the voyage from Cardiff he had spoken the British bq Jane Splott in lat. 10° N. and 27° W. The Jane Splott is bound with lumber from Mobile to Montevideo, and all was well on board of her.

The ss. Coringa from the Roads should to-morrow enter the La Plata port to load live-stock and the Llanthony Abbey to discharge her cargo of coal in the same port.

No fresh case of illness occurred to-day in the port. The Aberlemno should to-morrow be granted free pratique.

The Italian bq Esther left the Roads to-day for Colastine to load. The ss. Kingsland also left the Roads to-day for Bahia Blanca to load.

The French ss. Bretagne is posted to leave on the 28th for Rio and Marseilles; but will book passengers only for the Brazilian capital.

The French ss. Carolina is expected here to-morrow from Naples, Valencia and Brazil, also the Brazilian from Glasgow and Canadian from Montevideo to fill up.

The following steamships were cleared to-day:—Uplands for Saint Vincent, Bellena for Antwerp and Gordon Castle for Rio; also the sailing vessels Levant for Fray Bentos and Illos for Falmouth.

The Veloce boat Vittoria passed Las Palmas, all well, on the 23rd, on her voyage from the Plate to Genoa.

The Italian ss. America should to-morrow leave the Madero Port for Genoa.

A shiver ran through the shipping market to-day, as the bottom, which had begun to shew pronounced signs of collapsing yesterday, went completely to pieces, the brokers being as solemly disconsolate as mutes at a funeral or guests at a Banquo's Ghost spectacle. When 12 shillings to load here for Liverpool was announced apprehensions began to loom up; shortly afterwards a like rate to load in Rosario was quoted, and the market went pallid, but when 4 shillings to load wheat for Germany was announced the panic flushed up to its height and there was not a leg left to stand on, ships banging around for nothing—a gift. The degringolade was awful, though not to say quite unexpected, as with very heavy tonnage due produce arrivals were getting lower every day, which some of the keenest of Mother Carey's chickens took advantage of to step in and place what they could. It is an awful time, truly, though there is one redeeming feature about it, and that is matters could not be blacker or worse than they are at present, so that any change must be for the better.

The ss. Arara which left La Plata on Saturday last, under the command of Captain Kilgour, was one of the largest and most heavily drafted steamers which have visited this port. She carried an entire crew of some seventy Lascars who kept the ship in a spotless condition and made such cooks and servants that many families in Buenos Aires begged Captain Kilgour to leave his Indians behind him: but such are the strict laws of our Indian Empire, that Captains are under a heavy fine if they do not return their crews every two years back to their native shores. However, the gallant Captain assured his lucky friends that should it be his good luck to return to these hospitable shores he would bring a consignment of his gayly clad Hindoos, to relieve them from the great worry to housekeeping, which is the difficulty to find good domestics. It being the first experience of Captain Kilgour in these waters, on arrival he placed his steamer, fortunately, in the hands of Messrs. Samsom to find him a complete cargo of such a nature as to allow her heavy draft to leave river. These gentlemen succeeded in not only filling the ship but also secured a splendid deckload of cattle and sheep, so that the Arara sailed with a full consignment, but not being a regular trader, and the most competent pilots of the Agents being engaged, it was left to the Captain's option to find a Pilot capable of taking his steamer on her heavy draft of 26 feet to sea. His choice fixed on Captain Pritchard, late of the Platense service. Mr. Samson, on learning this, most naturally informed Captain Kilgour that though his choice had fallen on a man well-known to him as one of the most popular River Captains, he rather doubted whether he could take his steamer to sea, and advised him to lessen the risk by taking his complement of coals, some five hundred tons, in Montevideo. However, such was the confidence that the captain placed in his pilot that he coaled and watered in La Plata Port, sailing with the locally unrecorded draft of 20 feet. Many were the bets that the ship would have to wait a higher river to sail, so that Messrs Samson were pleased to receive a telegram from Montevideo stating the Arara had landed her pilot just twelve hours from La Plata, so that Captain Pritchard had almost raced his old command the ss. Venus, down the river. We are most pleased to see that our old friend means to remain on the river, where we have known him for over six years in the Platense Company, not only in voyages to Paraguay and Uruguay but also on the stormy South Coast in the Mercurio: in which good steamer he ran for two years, making voyages with clock work regularity, and was counted as the best coast Pilot, and often welcomed in San Blas bay when storms made the other coast ports impossible to enter, for he used to say that San Blas was the safest and most sheltered port he knew on the coast: his long experience of nine years in the Royal Mail Co. made him well acquainted with the deepest entrance to the River Plate.
